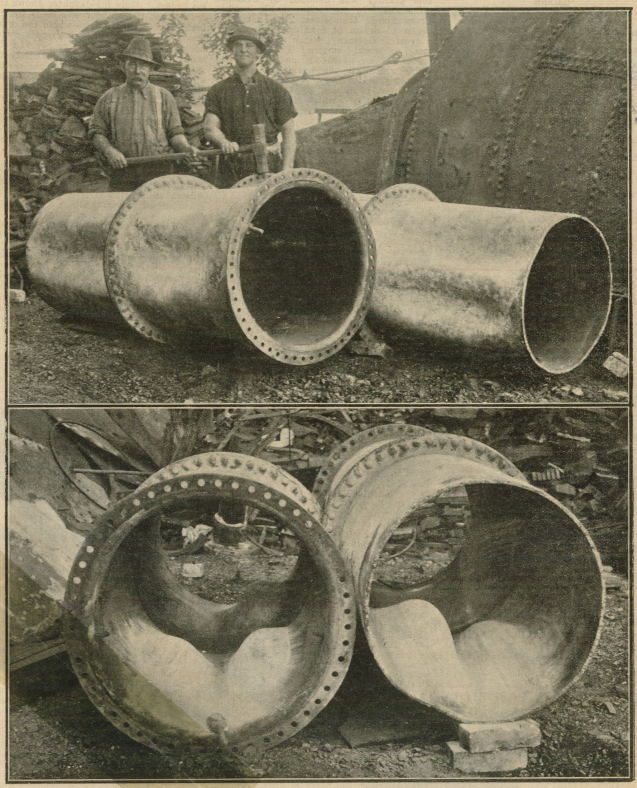
STAINED GLASS WINDOW IN KILCOY CHURCH.
A memorial to the late Mrs. W. Butler.—See page 29.



WHAT MAY HAPPEN TO A BOILER.
The danger of leaving a boiler with insufficient water or with an accumulation of sediment over the fire-box is exemplified in these two photographs of portions of two furnace tubes of a Lancashire type boiler in use at a Brisbane factory. The upper picture shows an exterior and the lower an interior view. The damage is especially clearly indicated in the latter in the form of a huge bulge or blister in the iron plate. A little more and there would probably have been a serious explosion. —G. Hughes photo.
